The poetic reflections of social issues in Fuzuli's works

Summary

The time that Fuzuli lived coincided to undergoing to the change of authority of Baghdad repeatedly. Fuzuli was describing in his works the difficulties of time, justnesses happening in the social life with his poetical language. Little by little Fuzuli rised his voice of objection, he did not want to be reconciled with social inequality and social justness. The subject of social justice in the work of Fuzuli is also expressed in the form of the manifestation of injustice, a complaint of that time.

In our paper we'll try to find answer to such questions like the place and role of society, education and social justice in the Fuzuli's works and how Fuzuli was reflected in his creative works to problems of society, and influence of these problems and etc. to forming of the Fuzuli's world outlook.
